Dear Jim & Kathy:

As you know our Contempri Modular Home manufacturer has made the commitment to provide outstanding energy efficiency in our model homes by offering Icynene Insulation System.

Last year we moved into a 5,500 square foot Contempri Home "The Mariah", insulated with Icynene and installed a Water Furnace Geothermal Heating and Cooling system. In addition to heating our main living area we also keep the basement radiant floor heat at 70 degrees and the attached 4 car garage at 65 degrees. I must say I was very pleasantly surprised to see that my January 2003 utility bills for heat totaled only $75! Our previous home was 2,400 square feet insulated with fiberglass and during winter months our utilities were running us $175 plus. So essentially we have more than doubled the amount of our living space and reduced our utilities by $100 per month!

In addition to the utility savings we have found our Contempri/Icynene home to be most comfortable! There are no drafts and the home is exceptionally quiet.

We have been pleased to offer Contempri Modular Homes due to the quality of their construction and are now excited about being able to also offer a superior Icynene insulated home that will provide our customers with a second to none living environment that is healthier, quieter, and much more energy efficient!

We will also be offering Icynene as an insulation upgrade to our Custom Home clients. There is no doubt with the rising costs of fuel that Icynene will play a significant role in the affordability of today's homes.

Sincerely,

Ted Schieler
